

Privacy Policy

Last Updated November 2017

The protection of personal information is important to Hockey Victoria (HV). HV is committed to respecting individual's privacy and the protection of personal information.

This document sets out how HV may collect, hold and use personal information. By providing your personal information to HV (either directly or through an affiliated organisation), you consent to its use, storage and disclosure in accordance with this Privacy Policy.

Why does HV collect personal information?

"Personal information" is information or an opinion (including information forming part of a database), whether true or not, and whether recorded in material form or not, about an individual whose identity is reasonably apparent, or can be reasonably ascertained, from the information or opinion.

HV collects personal information in order to properly and efficiently carry out its functions, including to provide you requested products and services, and to facilitate the provision of marketing and promotion services that may be of interest to you.

HV uses personal information only for the purposes for which it was provided and for directly related purposes (unless otherwise required by or authorised under law). We may state a more specific purpose at the point we collect your information.

If you do not provide us with the information that we request, we may not be able to provide you with our products or services.

What personal and sensitive information does HV collect?

Personal Information

"Personal information" is information or an opinion (including information forming part of a database), whether true or not, and whether recorded in material form or not, about an individual whose identity is reasonably apparent, or can be reasonably ascertained, from the information or opinion.

The information collected by HV about a particular person will vary depending on the circumstances of collection. It may include, but is not limited to, a person's contact details (name, email and/or postal address, phone number), date of birth, gender, credit card details, driver's licence number, passport number, insurance details, employment history, qualifications or communication history with HV.

Sensitive Information

"Sensitive information" is a type of personal information that also includes information or an opinion about an individual's racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, membership of a political association, professional or trade association or trade union, religious beliefs or affiliations or philosophical beliefs, sexual preferences or practices, criminal record or health, genetic information or disability.

If it is reasonably necessary in the circumstances, HV may also collect sensitive information such as your medical history, disability background or racial or ethnic origin.

Sensitive information is afforded a higher level of privacy protection than other personal information. Where you provide sensitive information to HV, you also provide consent to HV collecting it in accordance with this Privacy Policy, unless you tell us otherwise.

How does HV collect and hold personal information?

Information may be collected when you:

1. become a member of HV;
2. become a member of a hockey club, regional association, or other body which is a member of, or affiliated with, HV (HV Affiliate);
3. subscribe to any publication of HV or an HV Affiliate, including electronic publications;
4. are selected or nominated for representation in an Victorian or other representative hockey team;
5. provide details to HV or a HV Affiliate in an application, consent form, survey, feedback form or incident report;
6. access the HV website or a website of an HV Affiliate;
7. contact HV via email, telephone, fax or mail or engage with HV via social media;
8. participate in any program, activity, competition or event run by HV or a HV Affiliate;
9. purchase merchandise, products or services from HV or an authorised agent or licensee;
10. are elected or appointed to the Board or a committee of HV; or
11. apply for employment or a volunteer position with HV or an HV Affiliate.

Personal information may also be collected where HV is required to do so by law (for education, child protection, work health and safety laws, charitable collections, medical treatment or other legislation in Australia).

Providing information

If you do not provide some or all of the information that we request from you, this may affect HV's ability to communicate with you or provide the requested products or services.

By not providing requested information, you may jeopardise your ability to participate in programs or competitions or apply for employment or volunteer positions with HV or a HV Affiliate. If it is impracticable for HV to deal with you as a result of you not providing the requested information or consent, HV may refuse to do so.

Collection from third parties

HV or a HV Affiliate may collect personal information regarding a child from the parent or other responsible person associated with that child.

Information storage and protection

HV stores information in different ways, including in paper and electronic form.

Much of the information we collect from members and players is added to HA's National Database "HockeyNet". When your information is entered into HA's database, the information may be combined or linked with other information held about you. HA's database is shared among HA, its State and Territory hockey associations and its clubs, with each organisation having access to information relevant to its members or registered players.

Security of personal information is important to HA and HV. HA has taken steps to protect the information held from misuse, loss, unauthorised access, modification or disclosure. Some of the security measures HA and HV use includes strict confidentiality requirements of our employees, volunteers, HV Affiliates and service providers, security measures for system access and security measures for our website.
